

RiskMetrics Group

Gregg Berman

Gregg Berman co-heads RiskMetrics Group's Risk Management unit, covering institutional and wealth management offerings that serve Hedge Funds, Asset Managers, Prime Brokers, Banks, Financial Advisors, Insurance Companies, and Corporates. Berman joined RiskMetrics Group as a founding member during the time of its spin-off from J.P. Morgan in 1998.

Prior to joining RiskMetrics Group, Berman co-managed a number of multi-asset Hedge Funds within the ED&F Man umbrella. His start in the Hedge Fund space began in 1993, researching and developing multi-asset trading strategies as part of Mint Investment Management Corporation, a $1bn CTA based in New Jersey.

Berman is a physicist by training and holds degrees from Princeton University (Ph.D. 1994, M.S. 1989), and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (B.S. 1987).
