Marc Siegel

Marc Siegel is global head of accounting and legal research for RiskMetrics Group's Financial Research and Analysis unit. In his role, he oversees all accounting and legal and regulatory research. Siegel was the Managing Director of Global Research at the Center for Financial Research and Analysis (CFRA) until its recent acquisition by RiskMetrics Group.

Siegel joined CFRA in 2001, bringing ten years of audit and forensic accounting experience from Arthur Andersen, LLP. In addition to his work as a research analyst, Siegel manages the accounting and legal/regulatory team of research analysts and was recently asked to join the FASB's Investors Technical Advisory Committee. His publications include "Options Backdating: Corporate Governance Remains a Challenge," The CPA Journal, October 2007, "Accounting Shenanigans on the Cash Flow Statement," The CPA Journal, March 2006, "Recovery of Embezzled Assets Half a World Away," Journal of Accountancy, August 2001, as well as countless CFRA stories.

He frequently appears on CNBC and Bloomberg Television, and was credited with bringing widespread attention to the options backdating scandal. Siegel holds a BS in economics from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
